Remember that even if it does not lead to a resolution, a resolution meeting is a good opportunity to make whatever proposal you want the hearing officer to consider, and press the other side for information. Here, I would:

- Articulate specifically what else we would propose to do for the student in the area of reading. If a specific program is involved, I would be prepared to identify it, since we'll need to do that at the DPH anyway;
- Press her for specifically what it is that she wants. If it's Lindamood-Bell, I would ask for specifics as to when, where, how much, what program, for how long, and what the cost (retrospective reimbursement, and prospective). If it's some addition to the services at SLHS, specifics. If it's some change to the IEP, specifically what.

Someone should take good notes. We can then do a summary letter that's admissible in the case.
